

EXPEDITION ANORAK

SKU: 10951370

Expedition Anorak – Unisex

This robust anorak is designed for high mountains and expeditions in cold weather. It is built to last for many years and provides excellent protection against wind and weather. The anorak is made from soft, comfortable fabric with four-way stretch for good freedom of movement. It feels soft and pleasant against the body and produces minimal noise.

Stretch fabrics are generally less water-repellent than static materials. However, Schoeller® WB formula 3-layer fabric with C-change hydrophilic membrane has a water column rating of 20,000 mm. The fabric is also treated with Schoeller's 3XDRY impregnation, which makes the surface more water-repellent and ensures good moisture transport. The anorak will keep you dry and comfortable for a long time in light rain, but if it rains heavily for a long time, water may eventually seep through. On long trips you should always bring a mountain tarp/ wind sack to cover yourself and your backpack in case of accidents or really bad weather.
